

farm tour

Featherstone Farmer Jack Hedin gives a tour of the farm to CSA shareholders after the strawberry social. Here the group is touring the current building site for Featherstone's new washing and packing warehouse which is scheduled to be in use for this fall's harvest.

Jack describes the new acquired land as some of the best vegetable growing land in Minnesota because of its sandy loam soil, which is ideal for vegetable growing.

